NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

Eph Howard, a pioneer of Harlan county, is dead.

"Aunt" Nancy Talbott, colored, said to be 105 years old, died near Kirkville last week.

The supervisors raised the assessment of Mercer county $396,228, making the total $4,796,228.

The Boyle county grand jury failed to indict Hugh Smith for killing the Negro, Marshall Jones.

A jury at Richmond gave Judge Beckner $5,000 of the $30,000 fee he asked of Asher in a noted suit.

As revised by the supervisors, Madison county's taxable property amounts to $8,554,530; a quarter of a million less than last year.

The Paragon says that Nat Reiss is there with a part of his company and after a rest of a few weeks will open a week's engagement.

A marvelous story of the discovery of silver in paying quantities on Shaker Creek in Mercer, comes by way of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Klondike School Company, of Anderson county, has been incorporated. As its capital stock is only $175, it seems to be misnamed.

The Jamestown and Russell County Coal Company, with $3,000 capital, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of State. H. O. Coffman is the chief incorporator.

Mrs. Smith had her pocket book stolen from her while attending church at Eubanks, and while T. J. Wilder was attending the same meeting his house was broken into and $6 stolen.

The Advocate says that T. C. Prewitt, aged 55, and W. G. Brayles, 55, both born and raised in Boyle, slept in Danville for their first time the other night. They were on a murder jury.

When the whitecaps went to their home in Harlan county and attempted to whip Tom Jackson, his wife fired on the leader, who proved to be Wm. Wright, a neighbor, killing him.

The Boyle county grand jury suggested improvements on the courthouse and the circuit court room amounting to $3,000 and the judge ordered the county court to have them made.

It is said that there is hardly a doubt that the court martial to try Robert Hoskins for the murder of Provest Guard Denton, of Junction City, will order him shot. The trial will be at Columbus, Ga.

Gov. Bradley turned down applications for pardons of Sidney Lewis, Whitley, murder; Jackson VanArda, Mercer, six cases forfeited bond, and James Arnold, Boyle, concealed deadly weapons.

Judge Stanley at London has held that it was a violation of the law to sell a certain patent medicine; said to be Peruna, and held the four druggists of London to answer to the grand jury for selling the stuff. Trouble was caused by a man drunk claiming that the medicine had done it.

At the Pineville and Breckinridge mines, while the electric motor with a train of cars was entering, W. M. Thompson and John Kinder, two miners who were standing by the track, were dangerously injured by a car jumping the track and crushing them against the walls of the mines.

Craig Gregg was married Saturday night at the London jail to Mrs. Johnson. He is in jail for assault and has been in many jails, and in the penitentiary. He says he will reform. Mrs. Johnson has some money, and is preparing to get Gregg out of jail if possible.

The Somerset Paragon tells how Deputy Marshall Denton arrested a fellow named Keith for robbing the post-office at Eubanks and then took him to friends to spend the night. They occupied the same bed and after a while Keith made an excuse to go out. As he did so, he leaped over a picket fence and split the red mud of Eubanks wide open with his bare feet. He had not more than struck the mud on the opposite side of the fence, before Deputy Denton was going over the same way. Both were in their night clothes and barefooted and it took some nerve to undertake the race, but one of them wanted to get away and the other did not want to lose his game, and it was run to a finish through ice cold mud and sharp snags and stones. Finally Mr. Denton laid hands on his man, took him to his room and put hand-cuffs on him for the rest of the night and brought him here to jail next day.

COUGHED 25 YEARS.

I suffered 25 years with a cough, and spent hundreds of dollars with doctors and for medicine to no avail until I used Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. This remedy makes weak lungs strong. It has saved my life.—J. B. Rose, Granbury, Ill.

A mother was forced to whip her little boy and in order to impress him with the fact that it was done for his good, told him how much she hated to whip him and that it hurt her almost as bad as it did him. She was almost paralyzed when he very soberly asked her if it hurt her in the same place that it did him.—Prowler.

LANCASTER.

Mr. Zack Elkin, of Lincoln county, was in our city on Sunday.

Steve F. Teater, the polite livery and hotel solicitor, is now with Arnold & Hamilton.

Hemp-breaking is going on all over the county. The crop is good and the price is $4.50 to $5.

It is now Grand-pap Senator Geo. T. Farris, on account of Mrs. J. E. Smith, at Jellico, becoming a mother. Mr. J. A. Royston is sick of pneumonia.

The Centre College Glee Club, of Danville, gave a highly entertaining and creditable concert to an appreciative audience at the court-house on Friday night.

After the Harris-Cash wedding, near Turnersville, on Feb. 1, the happy pair and attendants will be received by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harris, parents of the groom, this city.

The location of Rev. Geo. O. Barnes in Washington City has no ordinary significance. He claims that the Lord called him there, and this must be true, as he is one of the most powerful preachers in the land and his services are needed at headquarters of a republican administration more than at any place this side of bades.

It is thought here by good citizens that Rev. Sam Jones' merciless attack on the advocates of silver and Mr. Bryan savors more of the wily politician than a follower of the lowly Nazarene. Admitting the silver men are wrong, his language is unbecoming a man in his position, and his grand stand plays for notoriety and money, reveal a want of christian spirit and are repulsive to the better class of people.

Rev. T. C. Bush, of Texas, son of Dr. W. N. Bush, is here and will preach in the court-house on Tuesday night. He affiliates with no denomination, but recognizes all who have truly been born again.

He is familiar with the Scriptures and devoted to the cause. Rev. W. L. Clark delivered an address to the Y. M. C. A. at the I. O. O. F. Hall at 3 p. m. Sunday, and the Loyal Legion, a children's temperance organization, met at the Christian church at the same hour.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Rachel Hemphill died of bronchial pneumonia, superinduced by grip. She was 63 years of age and the relief of Dr. Jas. Hemphill, an eminent physician, who died a number of years ago. Funeral services were conducted by Elder R. M. Campbell at the Christian church, today, Monday, at 10 A. M., and the remains were buried in the Lancaster Cemetery, a large crowd being present to pay the last tribute of respect to her, who was always held in the highest esteem. She was the mother Judge J. C. Hemphill, being the only child. She was an earnest, zealous member of the Christian church and had been since the beginning of her school years. Much good was done by her and her familiar face will be missed, not only in the church, but in the societies which were organized to promote the christian cause, as she was a charter member of the W. C. T. U. and a member of the Ladies' Aid Society.

A number of taxpayers met with the fiscal court on Saturday to make suggestions as to working and maintaining the turnpike roads. A plan was submitted which proposed to divide the roads into about 20 sections to be supervised by as many men, living on the sections, to receive no compensation. It also recommended the appointment of an engineer to measure the metal and a book-keeper to keep all transactions with contractors, each to receive $100 per year. Mr. A. R. Denney and others of experience favored the plan in the main, but suggested certain changes. After considerable discussion the question of adopting the plan was submitted and voted down by the magistrates. After some hot words between two members of the court it adjourned, further from an agreement that when it convened. While the majority of those present favored the plan, which was submitted, there were some who claimed that one man of experience should be appointed as supervisor and be required to give bond for the discharge of his duties, being permitted to appoint others to assist him, he being responsible to the court for the acts of men thus appointed. It is claimed that it is desirable to have the supervisor doing for nothing by these men, who are honorable and trustworthy, it is also true that they are not all familiar with the work and they would not have the time to devote to it, especially when there is no compensation. Others claim that the law contemplates the appointment of one man and that the result would be more satisfactory, especially if he had experience in that kind of work. It is hoped that the matter will soon be settled in a satisfactory manner and that the bad feeling will pass away. If the roads become in a bad condition the raiders may visit some of the court.

The internal revenue department has conferred authority upon a collector where an instrument was not stamped by accident, mistake, inadvertence or urgent necessity, and without wilful design to defraud, to remit the penalty and cause the instrument to be stamped.

The statement that Missouri never punished train robbers is a cruel slander. It often happens that outlaws of this class are sent to the penitentiary, even before they have been operating in the State 20 years, and sometimes they are compelled to remain there weeks and weeks before the governor pardons them out.—Kansas City Journal.

When you cannot sleep for coughing take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always gives prompt relief. It is most excellent for colds, too, as it aids expectoration, relieves the lungs and prevents any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Drugists.

DANVILLE.

Pierce Downton fell from a tree and broke his arm.

The W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Nathan Woodecock Saturday afternoon.

The mandolin and guitar club gave a concert in Lancaster Friday evening. They do not report a full house, but the absent ones I am sure missed a musical treat.

The annual prayer service for colleges was held in the chapel of Centre College Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. J. A. Gordon, of Ohio, brother of Prof. Gordon, delivered a most able address.

The funeral services of W. L. Moore were held at the residence of his son-in-law, Prof. Nelson, conducted by Dr. C. H. Martin and Rev. King, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Interment in Bellevue Cemetery Friday afternoon. A good man has been called to his reward. "How blest the righteous when he dies."

Miss Bessie Fales entertained her lady friends at luncheon Thursday afternoon. Oscar Gregory, of Paducah, stopped for a few days with friends in Danville as he returned from Birmingham. The friends of Mrs. Lucian Logan will be glad to have her in Danville again. Mr. Logan will travel for a Boston drug house. Miss Lucy Webb, of Lexington, is the guest of Mrs. Woolfolk. Mrs. John W. Verkes is visiting relatives in Louisville. G. W. Welsh is improving. Mrs. Noel and the Misses Noel are very ill of grip. Dr. and Mrs. Ely entertained at dinner in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Roberts. Covers laid for 12. Mrs. I. S. McElroy, of Lexington, is the guest of Eugene Lee, and Mrs. Susan Lee. Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Roberts entertained Friday evening in honor of the Freshman class of Centre College. They expect to give a series of receptions to the students. Mrs. Carl McKnight left Monday to join her husband at Milwaukee, Wis. Miss Eliza Henton Caldwell entertained a few friends Thursday evening in honor of Miss Elizabeth VanDyke Cheatham, the guest of Miss Dunlap. Misses Annie and Sue McDowell entertained Saturday afternoon in honor of their sister, Mrs. Carl McKnight. Miss Jane Cecil is the guest of Miss Gray of Frankfort. Dr. Ed Green, of Louisville, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Green on Maple Avenue. Col. Dobyns continues very ill. I. N. Buchanan is ill with grip at Gov. Knott's.

Sam is not a good man to discuss prosperity nor make fun of a man who has not directed his talents and time to money making. Times are always prosperous with Samuel. He is always out for the stuff and never tells even his coarsest joke for fun. Recently when the good people of Somerset wanted him to come and help them beat whisky, he did so, but not until $300 was guaranteed, and he went away with that amount in his inside pocket.

THE RAVAGES OF GRIP.

That mortal scourge, the Grip, poisons the air with its fatal germs, so that no one can be safe from it. You must have a bandage and a protection against this dangerous malady in Dr. King's Discovery. When you feel a soreness in your bones and muscles, have chills and fever, with sore throat, pain in the back, the head, catarrhal symptoms and a desire to vomit, you may know you have the Grip, and that you need Dr. King's Discovery. It will promptly cure the worst, cough heal the inflamed membranes, kill the disease germs and prevent the dreaded after effects of the malady. Price 50 cts. and $1. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free at Penny's Drug Store.

Supt. Wiley's report shows that during 1898 at the Lexington Lunatic Asylum, there were received 246 persons, making the total now 861; that of those admitted acute melancholia was the form of the affection of most; that more are admitted between the ages of 25 and 30 years than any other; that most of the patients are married; that housekeepers and farmers were predominating occupations of those admitted; that Fayette county sends more patients than any other one county; and that Fayette and Kenton counties have the largest number of patients.

THE DEADLY GRIP.

Is again abroad in the land. The air you breathe may be full of its fatal germs! Don't neglect the "Grip" or you will open the door to Pneumonia and consumption and invite death. It sure signs itself with fever, headache, full body aches, mucous discharges from the nose, sore throat and never-lets-go cough. Don't waste precious time treating this cough with a troches, tablets or poor cheap syrup. Try it at once with Dr. King's Discovery, the invisible remedy for his deadly grip. It kills the disease germs, heals the lungs and prevents the dreaded after effects from the malady. Price 50 cts. and $1.00. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free at Penny's Drug Store.

Physostigmine is the costliest of drugs. An ounce would be worth a million of dollars. It is used in diseases of the eye.

THE EAGLE, KING OF ALL BIRDS.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - JAN. 31, 1899

W. P. WALTON.

SENATOR GOEBEL made his second speech of the campaign Saturday, to a large audience at Owensboro, a decided feature of the occasion being his magnificent introduction by Hon. W. T. Ellis, who endorsed his political course and his Lebanon speech without reservation or qualification. The Senator's speech was along the lines of that at Lebanon, the best points of which he emphasized and accentuated. He went for E. B. Stahlman, the head of the alleged railroad lobby and spoke of him as the same gentleman who bunged somebody out of $100,000 at Washington some time ago in securing the passage of a bill. Referring of course to Gen. Hardin's course in 1895, he said if he were made the nominee of the democratic party, he would not remain dumb from June to September as to what was his interpretation of the platform on which he was running. He further said also that if the question were put to him by a republican candidate as it had been put to Gen. Hardin, whether he would appoint a free silver or a gold advocate to the United States Senate, if the privilege should become his, his answer would not be evasive or non-committal, but would be unequivocal for the free silver candidate, and he should esteem it a privilege and an honor to name the Hon. Jo. C. S. Blackburn. The Senator's remarks, according to the Messenger, created the finest impression and won the most enthusiastic praise.

A GOOD deal of useless sympathy is wasted by a certain class on men who take the bankrupt law, nine-tenths of whom are rascals, who invoke the law to rid them of honest debts that they should be made to pay. Commenting on the case of the Lexington horseman, who took the benefit of the law invented by swindlers for the benefit of swindlers and who showed liabilities of $40,000, with nominal assets of $8,000, the Bowling Green Courier expresses our sentiments when it criticizes the horse papers which said the sympathy of the horse world will go out to the bankrupt in his great misfortune. It would seem more like the fair thing if the sympathy was equitably divided with the creditors who are to lose the $40,000, save what little of the $8,000 is left after going through the hands of referees, lawyers and court officers, rather than all on the man who shuffles out of a $40,000 obligation by paying the measly sum of 20 cents on the dollar, a smart slice of that going to meet the fees, bankrupt counts and lawyers. The honest bankrupt is entitled to sympathy, but his unfortunate creditors should have a little share as well.

THE Frankfort Argus tells a good one on the unsophisticated and tender hearted lieutenant governor, a nent the pardoning of the Associated Press for failure to report its franchise for taxation. The application was signed by one of the officers of the association, Mellville W. Stone, and it did not take Gov. Worthington five minutes to issue the pardon. Feeling proud of having done a friend a favor, the acting governor stepped into Auditor Stone's office to receive his grateful expressions. Stone was slow in mentioning the subject, so Gov. Worthington remarked that he had granted the pardon requested. "What pardon?" answered the auditor, and the governor immediately answered, "For the Associated Press Company." The auditor said he made no such request and had nothing to do with it. When the governor examined the petition again and discovered it was "Mellville" and not "Samuel" Stone that appeared on the petition, he felt like hiring a boy to kick him.

THE foul mouthed Eagan who blackguarded his superior officer and poured billingsgate on him from many pages of type written matter carefully prepared, blubbers like a calf when taken before the court martial convened to try him for language unbecoming a gentleman and a soldier and for acts incompatible with good discipline of the army. He says that Gen. Miles' charge that the beef sent to the army was under pretense of experiment and not fit to eat, made him temporarily insane and drove him to use language which, even if he did use, he could not be held responsible for, since the president had promised immunity to all who testified before the war investigation commission. This working of the baby racket has still further lowered the commissary general in the eyes of the people, who are more of the opinion than ever that he should be given the full punishment provided under the law.

The court martial found Eagan guilty of the charges conferred against him and recommended the exercise of executive clemency.

SUNDAY was McKinley's birthday and he was only 55. Nearly every honor that the American people can bestow has been his, almost before he is middle-aged. Except U. S. Senator he has held nearly every office worth holding.

THE long expected break-up in the Louisville Dispatch has come in the resignation of Editor-in-chief B. A. Enloe, who proceeds to tell some very interesting but damaging inside secrets. He says he is tired of being overruled by the president and the new board, who seem to be entirely under the hypnotic influence of the L. & N. railroad, which is "putting its hand into the affairs of the Dispatch," that the paper has been made "the tool of corporate interests," and that if it "can not be saved from the shameful fate of a bond slave of the all-powerful and all-pervading money power, it is the duty of those who created it to sacrifice it rather than see it sent to a grave of infamy." He also tells about that $26,000 that Col. Young said the L. & N. had put up, though President Carter had refused to tell where he got it. The object of the L. & N. is to secure control of the paper to create dissension in the ranks of the democracy and when that is best accomplished to wipe it out of existence. The Dispatch denies that the L. & N. has anything to do with its management, but its manager recently admitted that John Whalen had and most people would prefer the former's direction to the latter. The conclusion of the whole matter seems to be that the Dispatch will lose its influence with democrats and that another paper will have to supplant it. Managing Editor C. I. Stewart has been elected editor-in-chief and in his salutary he emphasizes support of the Chicago platform and opposition to everything that the Courier-Journal advocates, especially its candidates.

THE appearance of Secretary of War Alger before the war investigation commission and his testimony are the most farcical of the many farcical performances before that farce-comedy tribunal. In response to questions that he had doubtless been told would be asked him, he said he had never received any official complaint concerning the food furnished the army; declared he was not interested in the location of the army camps, in contracts for material and supplies, or in the purchase of ships and had no interest in any of the beef contracts and knew nothing about "embalmed" beef. It is very natural that he should have answered the questions as he did. To have done otherwise would have been to give the whole snap away. Of course Gen. Alger would not plead guilty to charges investigated purely for bungling and to pull the wool over the eyes of the people, who nevertheless and notwithstanding, will continue to think that the conduct of the war was a most miserable performance and that thousands of splendid young lives were sacrificed thereby.

THE newspaper woman and men engaged in the conspiracy to prove that Councilman Cimotti, of Louisville, is willing and anxious to receive a bribe and which they succeeded very well in doing, were dismissed by Judge Thompson on a technicality, but he censured them for their methods. The prosecuting witness was scored for his exhibition of moral obtuseness, not to say an entire lack of moral perception, that renders his testimony worthless for any purpose except to show his own turpitude. If all the Louisville councilmen are as corrupt as Cimotti has shown himself to be the penitentiary is too good for them. If not they should take steps to have him fired in disgrace. The investigation also showed up the Commercial newspaper men in a bad light and if the oral and written testimony is to be believed they are a pretty tough set themselves.

BRER SAM STONE will not be commissioner of internal revenue. When he was presented to the president Saturday, the executive told him very frankly that he was chasing an ignis fatuus and that he had decided to appoint an Ohio man, George W. Wilson, who has for the last 10 years been practically the head of the department. Thereupon Kentucky's auditor shook the dust of the capital from his feet and returned home a sadder, if not a wiser man.

GEN. HARDIN ought to call Editor Knott, of the Louisville Post, off and make him quit championing his candidacy. The paper that ran the democratic State ticket at its head in 1896, minus the nominee for governor, can not in 1899 have any other than a bad effect in its advocacy of the man for governor whom it decried so viciously then. The support of such a paper is far worse with democrats than its abuse.

IT is said that Gen. Eagan was backed by a beef combine in Chicago and that Gen. Miles' testimony flushed the game. The possible exposure may have had considerable effect on Eagan's alleged madness, but he showed too much method in it. Besides the general protests too much. One assertion that "I am an honest man," would have sufficed, without an iteration and reiteration of it.

THE war investigating committee is about to report, after its arduous labors to find every body and every thing as white as snow. It is said that the report will be a full vindication of Miles and all his tools, while Miles alone will be singled out for censure for an omission. The board seems to have served the purpose of its formation most gratifying to the former.

THE candidacy of the Hon. W. P. Thorne, of Henry, for Lieutenant governor, is meeting with general favor. Mr. Thorne has had much legislative experience, having been a member of the General Assembly for several terms, and is a fine parliamentarian, a qualification much needed as presiding officer of the Senate. He is besides a democrat in whom there is not the slightest smell of mugwump guile and a gentleman who would reflect credit upon the State as governor should the executive die or become incapacitated.

POLITICAL POINTS.

HON. EVAN JONES, who was on the populist ticket with Gen. Weaver, died at Fort Worth, Texas.

SENATOR QUAY's trial is set for Feb. 20. The day of his re-election let us hope, will never come.

THE Kansas Legislature goes on record as favoring the seating of the polygamous Congressman, Roberts.

A meeting of the populist State executive committee, called for Feb. 1 in Louisville, has been postponed to Feb. 27.

JOHN W. HEADLEY, secretary of State during Gov. Brown's term, wants to try it again and has announced his candidacy.

SENATOR BUTLER has withdrawn his bungling resolution to pension Confederate soldiers, in obedience to their wishes.

WM. A. CLARK, democratic candidate for U. S. Senator from Montana, was elected Saturday. Twelve of the republicans voted for him.

AN AGREED SUIT to test the validity of the Kentucky parole law which has been suspended since 1891, has been filed in the State fiscal court.

GOV. BRADLEY commissioned Lieut. Col. Belknap to be colonel of the 1st Kentucky; Maj. Gray to be lieutenant colonel and Capt. Carr to be major.

IN OKLAHOMA, a constitutional convention will be held in June, and a State election in October on a proposal to go to Congress and demand admission as a State.

ADMIRAL DEWEY says: "After many years of wandering I have come to the conclusion that the mightiest factor in the civilization of the world is the imperial policy of England."

THE Louisville Times says that Moses Oppenheimer, of Russellville, gives this as his reason for being for Hon. W. J. Stone for governor: "I was for Stone for her reason that he has only one leg for dem politicians to pull."

CHAIRMAN W. H. MORGAN, of the democratic executive committee of the 2d railroad district, has called a meeting of the committee at Frankfort, Feb. 9, to select the place, time and manner of nominating a railroad commissioner.

THE REPUBLICAN, the official organ of the Philippines, announces that the Congress at Malolos has accepted the Philippine constitution, passed a vote of confidence in Aguinaldo, and empowered him to declare war on the Americans whenever he may deem it advisable.

McGraw, the defeated democratic nominee for U. S. Senator in West Virginia, says he proposes to contest Scott's election on the ground that two senators voted for Scott, who are not entitled to their seats. These are the two war senators, Gezandanner and Pierson.

THE COMMITTEE to investigate charges of bribery in the California senatorial race reports that Wright, the Speaker of the Assembly, sold out to U. S. Grant, Jr., for money and to Bullock for political support, and that Grant's agent has used not less than $20,000 in his race.

SENATOR WHITESIDE, of the Montana Legislature, who turned over to the State treasurer $30,000 with which, he said, agents of W. A. Clark tried to bribe him in the senatorial race, has been unseated. He revenged himself by charging that every man who voted for Clark was bribed.

SENATORS LINDSAY and GORMAN were chiefly instrumental in holding up the promotion of Sampson. Senator Lindsay says that he is willing to eliminate Admiral Schley from the contention, and then asks the department why it should promote Sampson over the head of that gallant old Kentuckian, Commodore Watson.

THESE were two counties in the State of Kentucky—Cumberland and Letcher, in the 11th district, which failed to record a single vote for the democratic candidate for Congress. The reason is that the democratic candidate's name was omitted from the poll books by republicans charged with the duty of providing them.

EX-ATTORNEY GEN. A. H. GARLAND, who held that office during Cleveland's first administration, dropped dead from apoplexy while addressing the supreme court at Washington. He was a native of Tennessee and was educated in Kentucky, but located in Arkansas, where he served as governor and later was elected to the U. S. Senate.

THOSE who betray the confidence of the people sooner or later come to grief. Carlisle is an exile. Lindsay is rapidly developing "ex" in front of his name. Roger Q. Mills, the great leader of Texas democracy, followed Cleveland into private life without a struggle. Then there is William L. Wilson, Bynum, Patterson et al omnia genus—Louisville Dispatch.

BRIEF NEWS NOTATION.

James Ramsey, aged 92, is dead in Clark county.

There are five mails a week now between Tampa and Havana.

The L. & N. will put on a fortnightly steamer to Havana, Feb. 12, from Pensacola.

A rubber goods trust was organized with an authorized capital stock of $50,000,000.

A Brooklyn woman fell dead of heart disease, and a little later her husband died of apoplexy.

They continue to go higher. A seat in the New York Exchange sold for $38,000 Saturday.

Mrs. Samuel Cravens, living near Scottsburg, Ind., dropped dead of apoplexy while milking.

Lexington speculators lose between $15,000 and $30,000 through O'Dell, the bucket shop man, who absconded.

WILLIAM MOORE, of Beattyville, drank a quart of whisky in 20 minutes and won $10 by it. He came near dying next day.

PRES. MADISON, who criminally assaulted a six year-old colored girl, was given 20 years by the Montgomery court.

Snow fell in Central and Southern Georgia and Alabama. In Atlanta the precipitation amounted to nearly four inches.

Eleven shipwrecked sailors, after escaping death by drowning, were captured and eaten by cannibals of New Guinea.

A female insurance agent in New York committed suicide by getting into a large packing trunk with a bottle of chloroform.

A farmer near Fairbury, Neb., butchered a hog afflicted with trichinæ. The fat of eight ate of the meat and two are already dead.

WILLIAM NAGINGAST, an 11-year-old boy, died of lockjaw at Cleveland, after being vaccinated at a free dispensary. The case is being investigated.

JOHN HOWARD, of Rock Port, Ind., attempted to kill his brother, who took the bankrupt law and left him to pay several notes he was security on.

THE court of appeals decided the prison chain contract controversy in favor of the State and gave judgment against the Norman-Hubbard Co., for $52,000.

THE NEW YORK Mutual Reserve Fund Life Insurance Co. paid $3,887,100 in death claims last year and in the 18 years of its existence has so paid out $37,000,000.

ASTOUNDING charges are made against physicians in Vienna free hospitals, where patients, it is alleged, are inoculated with deadly germs for experimental purposes.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS MALLEY, of Joplin, Mo., locked their three small children in their house and went to church. When they returned their house was burned and the children cremated.

OFFICIAL investigation shows that John W. Keeley, of the Keeley motor fame, was the greatest fakir that ever lived. His so-called motor was nothing more than hidden motive power in a cellar. During his life he raised over $5,000,000 for stock, which he squandered.

N. B. BAKER, of Kenton Station, was shot and fatally wounded by Emil Messingschlaeger, 35, of Morning View. Messingschlaeger was intoxicated and took offense at a remark made by Baker regarding a recent fire in a shoe shop in which George Reith burned to death and Messingschlaeger came near perishing.

THE court of appeals holds that a married woman who is authorized by the statute to sue and be sued as a single woman can not by reason of her coverture obtain a reversal of a judgment against her when she did not present that question in any way to the court below when sued upon an obligation given before the statute was enacted in 1894.

THE BANK clearings in the principal cities show large increases except in 14, where there is a decrease compared with the corresponding work of 1898. Memphis shows the greatest decrease, over 31 per cent. Seattle and Tacoma following with 22 and 14 respectively. Salt Lake City shows an increase of 110 per cent. and New York nearly 99.

ON the scaffold out in Montana, Tom Salmon's last words were: "If any of you follow my body to the cemetery do not uncover your heads and take chances of getting pneumonia. It is a barbarous custom, and I hope you will protect yourselves, for by so doing we will please me." Salmon's crime may have deserved the death penalty, but it seems a pity to hustle out of the world a man capable of talking good sense like that.

Terms on day of sale. H. A. PLEASANTS, Admr.

ADVICE TO MINISTERS.

Given by a Minister.

Preachers who practise it will preach better.

No class of people is so liable to throat trouble as the great class who make up the Gospel ministry. The strain put upon the vocal organs by constant exercise; the heat and cold from having to be in a state of complete relaxation; the fact that a minister feels impelled to use his voice when action and lecture would take the rest. These are among the reasons why "Clergymen's sore throat" is known as a special disease. The Rev. E. M. Brawley, D. D., District Secretary of the American Baptist Publication Society, writes: "I have a sore throat. The Rev. Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I have had for three months, has relieved me greatly. I have had no trouble since taking it." Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a special remedy for sore throat. It is equally effective in Asthma, Cough, and every disease that attacks the throat or lungs. For years Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been put up only in large size bottles, at a price of 50c. To meet an increasing demand for a smaller size, Dr. Ayer has now put it in half-size bottles, at half price—25c. Send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook (free) and you will get a clearer idea of the great value of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Address J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

PETERSBURG, VA.

DEAR SIRS: Three months ago I took a severe cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis, pain in the chest, fever, etc. I was put to bed and under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has had the same effect. I am now able to go about and preach again. I recommend Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Prevention is better than cure." A bottle of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral kept in the house will effectively prevent the coming of a cold and cure it when it does come. This remedy has no equal in Bronchial troubles. The most stubborn cases have yielded to its use. It is equally effective in Asthma, Cough, and every disease that attacks the throat or lungs. For years Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been put up only in large size bottles, at a price of 50c. To meet an increasing demand for a smaller size, Dr. Ayer has now put it in half-size bottles, at half price—25c.

MRS. MATTIE WOODSON, who has been detained at her father's on account of the illness of her baby, returned to Middlesboro yesterday.

MR. A. G. EASTLAND was up Saturday after a long siege with the grip, distributing more Mutual Life Insurance of New York's matter.

MRS. T. M. PENNINGTON has been very low this week with the grip, but was much better yesterday, and she is now fast improving.—Middlesboro News.

REV. H. N. FAULCONER and wife were here yesterday returning from Livingston, where Mr. Faulconer held a meeting with 11 additions to the Presbyterian church.

HON. R. C. WARREN and E. C. Walton are attending the called term of Rockcastle circuit court. The latter writes that the crowd is small owing to the bad roads and cold weather and the prospect for business is poor.

MR. AND MRS. W. N. HALDEMAN, Miss Belle Haldeiman, Misses Clara and Annie Haldeiman and Miss Margaret Buchanan, of Crab Orchard, will leave tomorrow for Naples-on-the-Gulf, Florida, to spend the rest of the winter.—Courier-Journal.

J. W. McALISTER is taking a course in an electrical school at Washington, D. C. Joe Will is a bright boy and a natural genius, and with the proper training will no doubt become an expert electrician.—Jessamine Journal. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAlister.

THIS bit of gossip appears in the Middlesboro News: Mr. T. A. Rice, the L. & N. agent at Cumberland Gap, was the recipient of a most handsome New Year's gift from his father-in-law, Mr. S. H. Shanks, of Stanford, it being a $30,000 Blue Grass farm. While we don't know whether not Mr. Rice will quit the railroad business, we imagine, he will.

IF you want an evening of general enjoyment, hear Polk Miller at Walton's Opera House, Thursday night, 2d.

D. H. C. PEYTON has bought Page Wofford's outfit at Moreland and is running the business at the old stand.

A DEAL whereby V. H. Hall & Bro. close out their saloon to A. T. Taylor and W. O. Speed is being consummated.

DR. OWSLEY was paying the stockholders of the Farmers Bank & Trust Co. yesterday 15 per cent. of their holdings in it, making 85 per cent. so far paid.

THE improvements to the circuit court room suggested by the grand jury are being made. Beazley & Carter contracted for the stove and have put up a beautiful heater.

THE L. & N. was fined $500 at Lebanon in another case for the violation of the long and short haul clause of the constitution. There are some dozens or so similar cases on the docket of the same court.

FOR LIFE.—Jim Smith, who killed William Gilbert, another Negro at Junction City over 25 cents, was given a life sentence at Danville. Five of the jurors were for hanging, but finally agreed to the lighter verdict.

IT is unfortunate that two such eminent entertainers as Gov. Taylor and Polk Miller should follow so quickly on each other, but it can't be helped. We have to take 'em when we can get 'em. Make it a point to hear both.

THE weather has been very cold since Friday, the mercury going down to 15 and standing below the freezing point Sunday and yesterday. Threatening tonight, fair and probably colder Tuesday were the indications yesterday.

DEAD.—William Owles, a well-known Crab Orchard Negro, died Saturday. He was bit of a wag, very fond of whisky and never worked. When asked his name he would invariably answer: "Whisky Bill, from Louisville; never worked and never will."

RESERVED seats to Gov. Taylor's lecture are going like hot cakes and the number purchased promises to exceed the record breaking one to Gen. Gordon's lecture. Don't fail to secure a seat if you want to be sure of some place to sit, for standing room is going to be at a premium.

A BOYLE county man named Bolling sued the L. & N. for damages to his farm caused by the damming of a stream, which he, the said Bolling, had helped to construct. The case was tried before Judge Saufley at Danville last week, when the jury very promptly and properly apparently, found for the railroad.

A REPUBLICAN organ says that Davidson will go to Jackson to get the state.

THE OLD CAPTAIN.—Of the fine old gentleman who set type in this office for years, and one day made a record of 21,000 ms., the Lancaster Record says: Capt. Frank J. White, of this office, was 78 years old Monday. He came to the office at 8:30 (much later than usual) and by 2:15 had up two galleys of brevier type, clean proof. Beside being a fast compositor, captain is a true gentleman and a devout Christian. He is in remarkably good health and many friends hope he will pass many more milestones on life's journey.

Accident or Strategy?

IT WAS their first New Year's dinner, and naturally a very important affair. When they first spoke of it she asked his opinion as to the menu and then vetoed all his suggestions.

"And neither of us have a relative within a hundred miles, so we can just invite people we really like," she said, finally.

"Good! I should like—"

"The Swellstyres? So should I; Then, as you say, the Haughtons."

"Did I mention, the Swellstyres and the Haughtons?"

"You were just about to, dear, when I interrupted you. Isn't it nice that we always think alike, Rodney?"

"Do we? Now, in the matter of the hall carpet we—"

"Oh, well, dearie, even you are wrong sometimes. So, then, our little dinner is arranged."

"You forget the Smiths, dear. I was at the first New Year's dinner they ever gave. Let me see—that was in '90."

"Humph! the same year in which Mrs. Smith got her last new dress, wasn't it? Yes, as you say, we will have them some other time."

"I didn't say some other time; I said on New Year's Day. I promised them that they should dine with me on the first New Year's day after I was married. Why, what are you crying about, Ophelia?"

"B—because that isn't the reason you want them; you want them because that horrid Johnson girl you used to go to see when we quarreled lives near them, and you want to ask after her and find out if—if she took our marriage to heart; that's why!"

"I had forgotten that the Smiths lived near her; honest, I had. Phebe. Look here, you write and ask them to dinner on New Year's day, and I'll not mention Miss Johnson to them, and I—I'll get you that cut glass salad bowl you want so much."

"Will you, Rodney? Then I'll try to forgive you, and I'll write the invitation. But you must not forget to buy the dish; you know how forgetful you are."

Half an hour later, as he was going out, she said: "Are you going to wear that shabby old coat, Rodney?"

"Yes; it's snowing. You can give it to a tramp some of these days."

"All right, dear. And will you mail these letters for me? One is to the dressmaker, asking her the amount of her bill and saying that I want another new gown. The other is to mamma; I want her to run over for a few days and help me to select you some neckties that will wear. The third—"

"All right. I'll take them."

After he was gone his wife sent the housemaid out to post two other notes; then she sat smiling into space.

It was New Year's day at last, and the dinner table was all ready, the new cut glass bowl reflecting Mrs. De Witt's smiling face.

Even the cook was in good humor, and it seemed that marriage was a great success.

Just as Mr. De Witt was ready to come down his wife came into his room. "Oh, Rodney," she said, "may I give your old coat to a tramp?"

Mr. De Witt burst out laughing ten minutes after his wife had taken the garment away. "Those letters to her mother and the dressmaker were in the pocket," he said to himself. "What a joke!"

Half an hour later the Swellstyres and the Haughtons had arrived, and Mr. De Witt began to grow a little nervous about the nonappearance of the Smiths. "It isn't like them to be late," he said.

"Perhaps Mrs. Smith has a new gown, and it took her a long time to put it on," suggested his wife.

They waited 20 minutes; then Mrs. De Witt said: "Strange they haven't come. You mailed my invitation, of course, Rodney?"

"W—when?" asked her husband, turning pale.

"The evening we planned our dinner, dear," whispered his wife. They were in the butler's pantry at the time, and the fat was so modern that a whisper was necessary lest the guests in the parlor hear.
